For example, in Perry's stories, characters might be described as "walking storms" to symbolize their tumultuous emotions or challenging circumstances. For instance, Perry might depict a character's resilience as "standing tall like a mighty oak," emphasizing strength and endurance. Similes make descriptions more relatable and accessible, helping audiences visualize characters' traits and emotional states.

Personification

Personification assigns human qualities to non-human entities, creating vivid imagery. An example might be describing a community as "standing proud and unyielding," giving a community human-like resolve. In Perry's storytelling, personification often highlights themes of hope, perseverance, and the human spirit.

Alliteration

Alliteration is the repetition of consonant sounds at the beginning of words in close proximity.
